Relyco Announces Innovative FLEXCHEK Check Signing Software

Integrates with all off-the-shelf accounting software packages to efficiently and securely automate check signing processes

Dover, N.H., June 29, 2010 – Relyco, a leading provider of value-added business printing solutions, business equipment, and check printing software, today announced its innovative FLEXCHEK check signing software that enables users to efficiently and securely automate the signing of checks directly from any off-the-shelf accounting software package.

FLEXCHEK allows users to easily import and manage multiple signatures and automatically applies the signature(s) to either pre-printed or blank stock checks that can be printed using existing laser printers – expediting the check issuing process and reducing significant costs associated with expensive hardware solutions.

“While traditional check signers save time and reduce the delay of hand signing, they are expensive pieces of equipment that require maintenance and lengthy turnaround times for stamp or plate changes just to add or change a signature,” said Mike Steinberg, president of Relyco. “Our FLEXCHEK software takes an innovative approach with the only USB check signing software on the market today that offers users more flexibility, efficiency, security, and cost savings. In a matter of minutes, FLEXCHEK users can add or change their signatures – putting them in greater control of the check signing process.”

FLEXCHEK seamlessly integrates with any accounting system, including Quickbooks, Peachtree, Timberline, Epicor, Great Plains, Lawson, Macola, Oracle, and others. With FLEXCHEK, users can:

- Sign checks as they are printed from the accounting system or after they are printed
- Easily add or modify an unlimited number of signatures
- Add security through password protection or a removable FLEXCHEK USB lock

FLEXCHEK check signing software is available from Relyco today with pricing starting at $749. Request a free trial of FLEXCHEK at <http://www.relyco.com/flexcheck-software-free-trial.htm>. FLEXCHEK works with Windows XP, Windows Vista, and Windows 7. Users can also upgrade to the full version of the FLEXCHEK MICR check printing software. For more information and how to purchase, contact Relyco by phone at 800.777.7359 or 603.742.0999, by email at info@relyco.com, or visit www.relyco.com.
